County Clerk Daniel Arms done a rushing business in the coyote line last Tuesday, about forty pelts being presented during the day and certificates were issued to the owners. All of the coyotes were killed in Flint Creek valley. N. B. Ringeling, superintendent of the Hope Mining Co., brought in the skins of four coyotes which his hounds had run down and killed, and W. A. Carlisle presented thirty-two coyote skins in a bunch. Mr. Carlisle hunts the wily coyote with deer hounds and on New Year's day captured seven large chicken-fed critters on Willow creek, in the vicinity of James Campbell's ranch. The next day five more were run down in the same vicinity. Residents of the lower valley very often complain about losing so many chickens and other fowl from their barnyards, but could not account for their disappearance. The coyotes caught by Mr. Carlisle were all fat and evidently had lived on the very best the valley afforded.

Is In Favor of Expansion.

Arthur Sewall of Maine, candidate for vice president on the democratic ticket in 1896, is in favor of expansion. "I do not care to express my opinion," said Mr. Sewall, "upon Mr. Bryan's attitude upon the question of expansion. I will tell you mine, however. While not a professed expansionist, I believe we should hold the Philippines. It is true we did not go to war with Spain for territorial acquisition. Personally, I was opposed to going to war for any such purpose. But the islands have fallen into our hands and to that extent they are ours and expansion becomes a fact. We should not give them back to Spain. With the proposition that they will be troublesome to us, if retained, I do not concur. This country has proven its capacity to hold and control other acquired territory and to settle other great questions that came before it during its existence as a republic and I have faith in the ability of this government to successfully hold and control its newly acquired possessions. I do not consider the question of expansion yet as an issue."

AN IMPORTANT BUSINESS CHANGE.

Mr. John Neu Purchases the Grocery Store of Mr. M. E. Edwards.

A notable business change took place in this city a few days ago. Mr. M. E. Edwards disposing of his grocery business to Mr. John Neu, a well-known young man for many years associated with the firm of Gannon & Neu.

Since the fall of 1892 Mr. Edwards has conducted a successful grocery business at his present location and his many patrons will regret to learn that he will soon go out of business. During the time when the mines and mills around Phillipsburg were closed down and many of our residents were without employment Mr. Edwards' store was open and many a one of his customers was aided over temporary difficulties by groceries being delivered whether there was a pay-day in sight or not. The gentleman who succeeds him in business (Mr. John Neu) needs no introduction to the public of Granite county. For many years he has been associated with the well-known firm of Gannon & Neu and his branching out in the grocery business will no doubt meet with much success. For about a month Mr. Neu has contemplated to engage in business for himself, and the agreement reached with Mr. Edwards several days ago was no surprise to his friends.

The sale includes the entire stock of groceries and good will. Mr. Neu will take possession about the 1st of February and his business reputation so well established will assure him of a most liberal patronage in his new enterprise. The business location is one of the very best in the city and has been occupied by a grocery store since the early history of Phillipsburg. Caplice & Smith supplied the pioneers of the Flint Creek valley with provisions; Smith & McWilliams, their successors, and later, Thomas S. Smith, all done a flourishing business at the same old stand. M. E. Edwards for the past six years has enjoyed the same prosperity, and success dwells in the building.

HE WRITES FROM THE PHILIPPINES.

A Nephew of Theodore Smith Describes Soldiers' Life in Manila.

Our soldiers are enjoying life in the Philippines these days doing guard duty and viewing the havoc wrought by Admiral Dewey prior to their arrival. According to a letter received by Theodore Smith of this city, from his nephew, G. W. Smith, who is a member of Company D, First Regiment, Volunteer Infantry from Nebraska, the boys are all enjoying good health and are comfortably located at Manila. The letter is dated November 30th and the envelope bears the postmark Military Station No. 1, Philippines, Dec. 2, 1898, and reached its destination in this city after New Year's.

Mr. Smith states that his regiment embarked at San Francisco on June 16th and arrived at Manila on the 17th of July, enjoying a splendid voyage. Nothing occurred worthy of mention and the boys made practically a pleasant trip of it. After arriving at Manila things did not come quite so smooth for a time. The camping grounds were wet, and until the city was taken on August 13th their beds had to be made in mud and water. Mr. Smith writes that the boys had lots of fun taking the City of Manila. For about two miles they were obliged to wade through water up to their waists while the rain poured down at intervals, making it a continual round of pleasure with variations. During all this time the Spaniards kept on shooting at them and occasionally killed one of the boys, and they would retaliate by killing off a few Spaniards. The march, however, was never interrupted until the present camping grounds in the city were reached. The Spaniards retreated and the American soldiers had things their own way. The City of Manila is a sight worth seeing: Natives and Chinamen, half nude; Europeans and United States soldiers all go about in pursuit of their respective vocations and business. The American soldiers, especially the boys from Wyoming, are held in great respect by the natives on account of their superior physical build, all being big and stout lads. The stone walks and pavements around the barracks have been taken up by the soldiers on account of being too hard to walk on in the tropical climate.

Before closing, Mr. Smith again refers to the grand panorama presented in Manila Bay by the sunken Spanish warships as a sight never to be forgotten.

Did Not Mention Silver.

The first annual banquet of the democratic club of Maine occurred at the Preble house, Portland, Me., last Monday night. Among the speakers were George E. McNeill of Boston and ex-Gov. Alonzo Garcelon. The speakers devoted themselves entirely to the question of expansion, arguing against the policy of the administration. Silver was not mentioned during the evening. Letters of regret were read from Col. Bryan, ex-President Cleveland, ex-Senator D. B. Hill and others.

All Work Guaranteed to Give Perfect Satisfaction or Your Money Refunded.
Among the reasons which commend me to those requiring the services of a watchmaker are the following:
(1) Having for over 20 years given perfect satisfaction to the world's steam-enthusiasts of Dresden, Paris, London, Shanghai, Yokohama and San Francisco, proof of which I have in their own handwriting, patrons are absolutely secure against the botching of their timekeepers, which is of no small importance when it is considered that, with rare exception, watches are not worn out by their owners, but are ruined by bad workmanship.
(2) An honest guarantee is given for one year, during which space of time watches are cleaned several times, if need be, free of charge.
Respectfully,
